Cindy dot com gives you a lot more than Cindy's dot. In addition to being able to purchase everything Cindy — her fitness videos, her makeup book, even her customized wedding-cake toppers — fans can learn personal factoids (she ate Taco Bell bean burritos daily for the first three months of her recent pregnancy), track her every professional move (right now, she says, "I'm taking another month off to hang out with my son") or write to the supermodel directly. Crawford promises to answer at least five fan letters a month, so make it a good one.
